The way entrepreneurs connect is broken.

People assign more value to numbers than they do people

who's building fintech?

is anyone currently raising?

Your network isn't just a number. It's who you know, and who can actually help.

what's it like to build alone?

who in nyc is making noise in consumer?

Introducing
SERIES

A network of AI Friends who introduce you to the right people - exactly when you need them.

That can call and text autonomously.*

How it Works

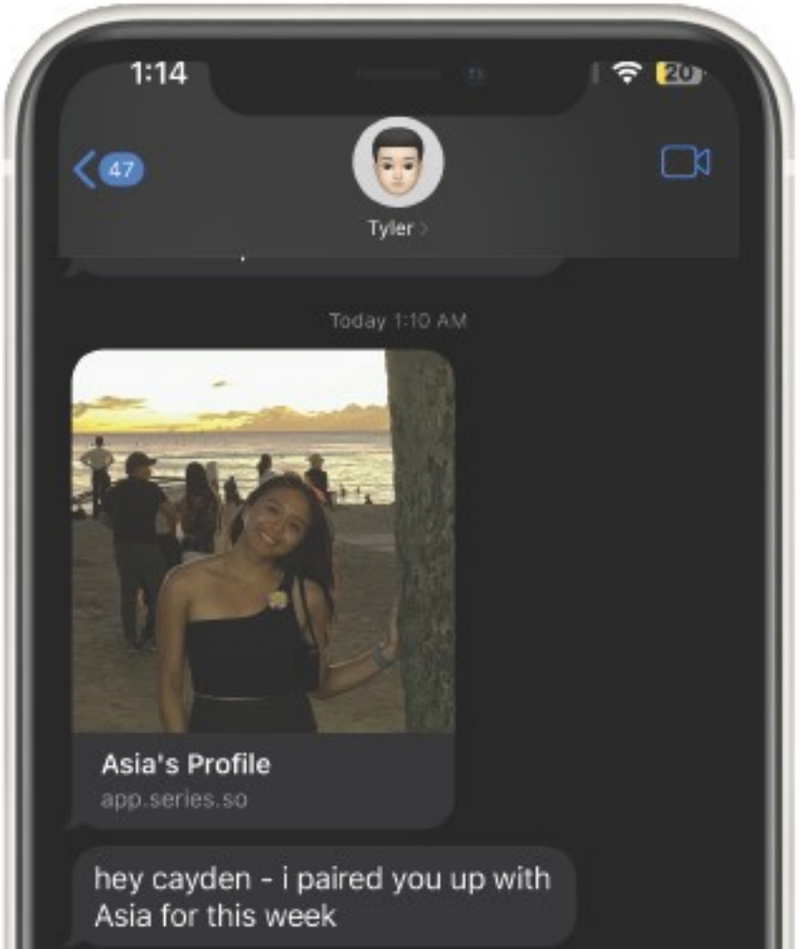

1. Text your AI friend to create your profile.

2. Describe who you're looking to connect with

3. Match with double opt-in connections via group chats

Our North Star

We've opened up Series to college students for early access — prioritizing those with the most vetted networks

2nd Degree Connections

If a perfect match isn't found, AI Friends connect you to someone who has the right warm network

Series Premium

A faster way to get introduced to your next customer, user, or hire for your business

How it Works Premium

1. Set up an account with Series as normal
2. Join the group chat with your AI Friend and others
3. Describe who you're looking to connect with
4. Your AI Friends will make warm intros to potential leads (with mutual value)

One AI Friend will be your point of communication*
